12	Sacko Potatoes	C	76

THE SHORT VERSION

Hubba bubba owns the cleanest healthy starting lineup. Muggli's Mojo and PWND are close behind. The Warriors have contender-level depth but receive a B+ because five RB/WR assets carry meaningful health uncertainty. Sacko Potatoes has enough stars to recover, but the extra defense and kicker are costly in this shallow-bench format.

How the grades work

CURRENT ROSTER STRENGTH	Starter quality for 1 QB, 2 RB, 2 WR, 1 TE and two FLEX slots, using current 12-team half-PPR market price and ranking tiers.
DEPTH AND CONSTRUCTION	Best four bench skill players, position balance, and whether scarce bench spots were spent on redundant quarterbacks, tight ends, defenses or kickers.
DRAFT EXECUTION	Selection number versus current ADP. Positive value means the player was selected later than current ADP; negative value means the player was drafted ahead of market.
HEALTH AND ROLE RISK	Confirmed injury news, rehabilitation status and unresolved depth-chart roles through Aug. 27. ADP already reflects some injury risk, so this is a calibration rather than a second full penalty.

League-wide findings

- Two FLEX spots reward deep WR/RB rooms. Hubba bubba, Muggli's Mojo, PWND and The Warriors are best positioned to fill eight offensive starts without waiver help.
- Quarterback was drafted aggressively. Four teams carry at least two quarterbacks, and two carry three; in a one-QB league, that is potential trade inventory or replaceable bench cost.
- This league's D/ST scoring is unusually volatile: sacks are worth 2, blocks 5, safeties 10 and a shutout 15. A top defense matters more here than in defaults, but carrying two still costs valuable depth.
- Kicker misses are punitive (-5 inside 40 yards and -3 from 40-49). Accuracy and job security matter more than brand name.
- The current injury cluster is concentrated at RB and WR, making the two IR slots and early waiver claims unusually important.

Important interpretation

These are preseason draft grades, not guarantees of final standings. The score combines market-based roster strength, current injury/role information and construction for this exact league. Waivers, trades and lineup choices will quickly matter more than the original draft grade.

CALCULATION CORRECTION	The earlier single-team response described The Warriors as roughly +200 picks of market value. After applying one consistent convention across all 192 selections, the correct net is approximately +50 picks. The B+ letter grade is unchanged; this report uses the corrected figure throughout.

Team reports 1-2 of 12

93/100

#1 Hubba bubba

CORE: Jonathan Taylor / Drake London / Tee Higgins / Trey McBride / Jaylen Waddle

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
The league's cleanest eight-man starter profile: elite RB1, four startable receivers and a premium tight end.	Trevor Lawrence supplies less weekly separation than the elite quarterbacks, while the late RB depth is more quantity than certainty.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Jakobi Meyers: +29 Largest reach: Dylan Sampson: -50	Preserve the receiver depth and use the first bench churn on a higher-upside RB.
HEALTH WATCH
No major current flag among the projected starters.

91/100

#2 Muggli's Mojo

CORE: Bijan Robinson / Rashee Rice / George Pickens / Tetairoa McMillan / Ladd McConkey

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Bijan plus one of the league's deepest receiver rooms gives this roster multiple two-FLEX combinations.	Jacory Croskey-Merritt is the current market RB2 and Isaiah Likely is a thin standalone TE1.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Christian Watson: +39 Largest reach: Daniel Jones: -62	Shop surplus WR or QB depth for a steadier RB2 or top-10 tight end.
HEALTH WATCH
Monitor Croskey-Merritt's groin and Brian Thomas Jr.'s shoulder.

Team reports 3-4 of 12

90/100

#3 PWND

CORE: Ja'Marr Chase / A.J. Brown / Javonte Williams / D'Andre Swift / Bhayshul Tuten

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Two elite receivers and a balanced five-RB build create both floor and trade leverage.	George Kittle's depressed price reflects Achilles recovery risk, and Brock Purdy is the only quarterback.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Jayden Reed: +33 Largest reach: George Kittle: -44	Carry a Week 8 QB plan and be ready to stream TE if Kittle's workload is limited.
HEALTH WATCH
Kittle recovery and Chase's knee practice status are the key watches.

B+

88/100

#4 The Warriors

CORE: Justin Jefferson / Derrick Henry / Zay Flowers / Cam Skattebo / Terry McLaurin

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Strong WR/FLEX construction, excellent late receiver value and enough RB volume to survive a two-FLEX format.	The RB room is injury-heavy, and Alvin Kamara's MCL injury turns Round 12 into the draft's largest negative for this roster.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Jerry Jeudy: +51 Largest reach: Alvin Kamara: -45	Move Kamara to IR when eligible, add a healthy RB, and identify a Week 7 QB streamer.
HEALTH WATCH
Flowers, Skattebo, Hubbard, White and Kamara all require monitoring.

Team reports 5-6 of 12

88/100

#5 Lets go Brandon

CORE: De'Von Achane / Ashton Jeanty / Jeremiah Love / Garrett Wilson / Joe Burrow

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Potentially dominant running-back ceiling, with three current top-30 half-PPR assets.	Three quarterbacks consume scarce bench space, and the first three RBs all carry some current health uncertainty.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Khalil Shakir: +22 Largest reach: Tyjae Spears: -25	Consolidate QB depth into a receiver upgrade after roles and health settle.
HEALTH WATCH
Jeanty and Love are the main ankle-related checks.

B+

87/100

#6 Vlad the Impaler

CORE: Jahmyr Gibbs / Malik Nabers / Brock Bowers / Lamar Jackson / Davante Adams

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
The most star-heavy spine in the league: elite players at RB, WR, TE and QB.	Tony Pollard is the market RB2, Zach Charbonnet is on the PUP watch and the roster has several rehabilitation variables.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Calvin Ridley: +25 Largest reach: Juwan Johnson: -44	Prioritize a healthy running back over carrying two quarterbacks once waivers open.
HEALTH WATCH
Nabers and Charbonnet are material early-season health watches.

Team reports 7-8 of 12

85/100

#7 Madden Curse

CORE: Puka Nacua / Nico Collins / Kyren Williams / DJ Moore / Bucky Irving

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Excellent top-six skill group with a high weekly ceiling at both WR and RB.	The market has heavily discounted Sam LaPorta, and two quarterbacks reduce bench flexibility.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: DJ Moore: +21 Largest reach: Sam LaPorta: -52	Use the Herbert-Stroud surplus as trade leverage if a reliable TE upgrade appears.
HEALTH WATCH
Monitor LaPorta's back history and Kyle Monangai's knee.

84/100

#8 No Punt Intended

CORE: Amon-Ra St. Brown / Josh Allen / Breece Hall / Travis Etienne Jr. / Rome Odunze

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Top-end QB and WR scoring plus four usable running backs make the weekly floor attractive.	The WR2/FLEX group is less proven than the contender tier, and some middle-round selections came ahead of current ADP.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Jaylen Warren: +19 Largest reach: Rashid Shaheed: -35	Target a dependable third receiver; consider moving one of the two tight ends if Tyler Warren starts fast.
HEALTH WATCH
The projected core is relatively healthy entering Week 1.

Team reports 9-10 of 12

83/100

#9 Karate Chop

CORE: Jaxon Smith-Njigba / Chase Brown / Josh Jacobs / Quinshon Judkins / David Montgomery

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
The deepest top-four RB rotation in the league supports the two-FLEX format.	Three quarterbacks and limited receiver depth create avoidable roster inefficiency; Travis Kelce is priced as a declining asset.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Mike Evans: +25 Largest reach: Travis Hunter: -81	Trade or release QB3 and use the spot on a high-volume receiver.
HEALTH WATCH
Jacobs and Jalen McMillan need continued injury monitoring.

81/100

#10 Kyren on My Wayword Son

CORE: James Cook III / Omarion Hampton / Drake Maye / Jameson Williams / Rico Dowdle

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
Strong starting RB duo and a high-upside quarterback provide a viable weekly base.	The receiver room falls off quickly after Jameson Williams, while Tucker Kraft is returning from an ACL injury.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Deebo Samuel Sr.: +27 Largest reach: J.K. Dobbins: -47	Make WR the first waiver priority and keep Dalton Kincaid active while Kraft ramps up.
HEALTH WATCH
Kraft and Quentin Johnston are the immediate health checks.

Team reports 11-12 of 12

C+

78/100

#11 Bazinga

CORE: CeeDee Lamb / Saquon Barkley / DeVonta Smith / Colston Loveland / Alec Pierce

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
The first four rounds created a strong star core with top-tier WR and RB anchors.	Quarterback and RB2 are unsettled, Tank Dell is not close to full readiness and several middle picks were well ahead of market.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Xavier Worthy: +31 Largest reach: Jaxson Dart: -64	Use an IR slot on Dell and add a healthy RB before considering another receiver.
HEALTH WATCH
Barkley, Dell and the QB situation carry the largest uncertainty.

76/100

#12 Sacko Potatoes

CORE: Christian McCaffrey / Kenneth Walker III / Chris Olave / Emeka Egbuka / DK Metcalf

WHY IT WORKS	PRIMARY RISK
The starting skill core can still win weeks and contains legitimate top-20 upside.	Two defenses and two kickers are expensive in a six-bench league, while TE and multiple receivers carry current injury questions.
MARKET VALUE	NEXT MOVE
Best: Josh Downs: +33 Largest reach: T.J. Hockenson: -93	Immediately convert the extra D/ST and kicker into healthy RB/WR upside.
HEALTH WATCH
Egbuka, Downs, Hockenson and Keaton Mitchell need monitoring.

The Warriors - detailed draft sheet

Round-by-round value

Value = overall selection number minus current ADP. Positive means the player fell past market price; negative means the player was taken earlier than current market. Custom scoring improves Daniels and Rams D/ST beyond generic ADP.

Immediate priorities

1	Use IR and add a healthy RB	Kamara is expected to miss at least a month with an MCL sprain. If ESPN grants IR eligibility, use the open slot immediately.
2	Plan for Week 7	Daniels, McLaurin and White share a Week 7 bye. Identify the quarterback stream before the waiver market tightens.
3	Keep Jeudy	Jerry Jeudy was the roster's best pure value and supplies two-FLEX insulation while Flowers and the RB room are monitored.

Health watch and source sheet

PLAYER	RISK	CURRENT NOTE	TEAM
Alvin Kamara	High	Sprained MCL; expected out at least one month and may miss multiple regular-season games.	The Warriors
Zach Charbonnet	High	PUP/knee watch; early-season availability remains uncertain.	Vlad the Impaler
Tank Dell	High	Still not close to game readiness in the latest reports.	Bazinga
Malik Nabers	Medium	Returning from a major knee injury; workload and Week 1 readiness remain important.	Vlad the Impaler
Zay Flowers	Medium	Missed consecutive practices with an undisclosed issue.	The Warriors
Chuba Hubbard	Medium	Hamstring injury; team expects Week 1, but soft-tissue recurrence risk remains.	The Warriors
Rachaad White	Medium	Hamstring; recently limited to individual drills and expected to split work.	The Warriors
Emeka Egbuka	Medium	Toe issue and recent missed practices.	Sacko Potatoes
Josh Downs	Medium	Calf injury and recent missed practice.	Sacko Potatoes
Tucker Kraft	Medium	Returning from ACL surgery; early workload needs confirmation.	Kyren on My Wayword Son
